TORONTO, Oct. 30 /CNW/ - The Caldwell Partners International Inc. (TSX: CWL.A), Canada's first, largest, and only truly national human capital services firm, today announced its financial results for fiscal 2007 and the fourth quarter ended August 31, 2007. All references to quarters or years are for the fiscal periods unless otherwise noted and all currency amounts are in Canadian dollars.

Fourth-Quarter Operating Revenue Highest for Any Quarter Since 2000

The Caldwell Partners reported fourth-quarter 2007 operating revenue of $5,021,034, up 53 percent compared with $3,284,338 in the 2006 period. This volume represents a significant increase over the previous eight quarters, the result of higher levels of new business bookings in both the third and fourth quarters of the year. New business bookings in the fourth quarter will continue to be billed and will have a positive impact on the first quarter of the new fiscal year as well.

Operating income rose 63 percent in the 2007 fourth quarter to $603,888 from $370,734 in the 2006 quarter. With the 53 percent increase in operating revenue, the company was more than able to offset the higher compensation costs associated with its significant investment in new partners and other professional staff, as it executes its strategic growth plan.

Operating revenue and operating income are non-GAAP measures, however, the company believes that they provide a useful understanding of the performance of its core human capital services operations as they exclude income or loss from investments and taxes.

Investment income was $19,550 in the 2007 fourth quarter, compared with $175,795 a year earlier. The decline is largely attributable to weakness in the stock markets during the summer as well as losses incurred on the sale of some preferred shares. At the 2007 year-end, the market value of investments was $417,161 above the book value. This unrealized gain is not reflected in the financial statements.

Income before tax rose 14 percent to $623,438, compared with $546,529 in the 2006 fourth quarter.

Net income in the 2007 fourth quarter rose 50 percent to $355,394 ($0.020 per basic and fully diluted share), compared with $236,886 ($0.014 per share on a basic and fully diluted basis) in the 2006 period.

Strong Revenue Growth in 2007

The Caldwell Partners recorded a nearly 15 percent increase in operating revenue in 2007 to $15,544,458, compared with $13,523,855 mainly as the result of the second-half growth in new business bookings.

Operating income, however, declined for the year to $317,720 from $1,121,600 in 2006. The decline is attributable to several factors, foremost among them being an increase in compensation as well as legal expenses. This year's higher compensation expense reflects the growth in revenue and the as-planned higher expenses related to the significant investments in bringing on-stream new partners and other professional staff.

The company was recently informed that its insurer will cover substantially all of its legal expenses, but the recovery of these costs has not been reflected in the 2007 financial statements as reimbursement has not yet been received.

Investment income for 2007 was down slightly from the previous year at $644,841, compared with $659,169, reflecting the decline experienced in the fourth quarter. At year-end, $8.2 million of the company's $13.7 million was being managed by third-party investment managers, compared with about $4 million at the end of 2006. The balance of the portfolio is almost entirely invested in preferred shares. The company's holding of cash and cash equivalents is in government treasury bills, money market instruments and bank deposits. No amount is affected by the liquidity issues associated with the recent Asset Backed Commercial Paper problems in the banking community.

Income before tax was $962,561, compared with $1,780,769 in 2006. The effective tax rate for 2007 declined to 28.3 percent, compared with 34.0 percent for 2006.

Net income for 2007 amounted to $690,561 ($0.04 per basic and fully diluted share), compared with $1,174,769 ($0.069 per share on a basic and fully diluted basis) in 2006.

Quarterly Dividend of 2 Cents Brings Dividend to 8 Cents For the Year

The company's Board of Directors also declared a cash dividend for the 2007 fourth quarter of $0.02 per Class A non-voting and Class B voting share payable on November 16, 2007 to shareholders of record on November 6, 2007. For 2007, the company declared total dividends of $0.08 per share, representing a yield of 5.5 percent based on the closing price of its shares on October 29, 2007.

Normal Course Issuer Bid Approved

The Board also approved filing of a Notice of Intention with the Toronto Stock Exchange to purchase Class A Non-voting shares of The Caldwell Partners' through a Normal Course Issuer Bid. The number of shares and the time period of purchases will be subject to approval by the Toronto Stock Exchange. A further news release will be made when the application is approved.

"Our Board and management agree that the current price at which The Caldwell Partners' shares are trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange does not adequately reflect the value of our company, our financial performance, and the outlook for our business," said C. Douglas Caldwell, Chief Executive Officer.

"We therefore view the repurchase of shares as being very good use of a portion of the cash that we have been maintaining to carry out our strategic growth plans. This planned repurchase is consistent with our efforts to create value for our shareholders," he said.

Outlook is Positive for 2008

"Our accomplishments in 2007, particularly during the second half of the year, as well as the continued general strength of the Canadian economy in most sectors provide solid reasons to take a positive view of the outlook for The Caldwell Partners in 2008," said Mr. Caldwell.

"We continue to review with our Board our strategies for growing our business and creating additional value for the company's shareholders. We look forward to reporting on our progress in this throughout 2008," Mr. Caldwell said.
